

Bert Edwards Featured Fri. At Assemblies Ball

Affair Will Be Held Amidst Blaze Of Color, Honored Guests Attend

The eighth annual Assemblies Ball, gala affair presented by the Walker Memorial Committee, will be held amid a blaze of decorations this coming Friday night April 17 from 9:30 P.M. to 3 A.M. in Morss Hall of Walker Memorial, it was announced last night by William H. Carlisle Jr., assistant manager of Walker. The ball, now a coveted tradition among the student workers at Walker, is an exclusive affair for the benefit of many of the faculty, many of the alumni, and the friends of the student staff at Walker.

The event will feature the music of Bert Edwards, popular orchestra among Technology students, and up-and-coming in recognition from Boston night-clubbers. The various surprise events and the Walker Octet will be regular features, and the decorations will retain the fame they have attained in the past seven years, in the opinion of Carlisle.

The evening officially opens at 9:30 P.M. with the private reception of Honor Guests in the Tyler Lounge. Guests, some arriving by commercial and two by private plane especially for the affair, will include Mrs. Karl T. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Horace S. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Rhind, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Killian, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bridges, Prof. and Mrs. L. F. Hamilton, Colonel and Mrs. E. W. Putney, Commander and Mrs.

Mr. Henry Warren To Leave For Army

Lasell Concert Maestro To Lead Music Clubs

Mr. Henry J. Warren, director of the M.I.T. Glee Club and Concert Orchestra, will soon leave the Institute to accept a commission in the Military Police Corp of the Army of the United States, Raymond E. Ha'n, '43, announced at the Glee Club concert with Lasell held here last Friday night. He will be replaced for the duration by Mr. George S. Dunham of the Lasell music department. Mr. Warren was presented with a pen and pencil set as a token of appreciation for his services.

The concert, given in Morss Hall, Walker Memorial, was interrupted at 10:00 P.M. to enable all those present to listen to Glenn Miller's serenade to Technology. Following the recital a dance was held.

Hub Christian Movement Will Have "Round-Up"

The Annual Spring Round-Up Dinner for the student Christian movement in Greater Boston is to be held next Monday at 6:00 P.M. at the Y.W.C.A., 410 Stuart Street, Boston.

Robert Mackie, secretary of the World's Student Christian Federation will be the speaker at the dinner, and his subject is to be "World Community in Spite of War." Many students from the various schools in and around Greater Boston are expected to attend. A Chinese dinner will be served at a cost of $.50.

All students interested in attending this round-up are requested to signify their intentions by Thursday, April 16, at the latest. Leave your name at the T.C.A. office before 5:00 P.M. any day before the dead-line.

The Tech Staff Has Annual Outing At Green Acres

Southern-fried chicken, green peas, mashed potato, strawberry shortcake,—all these and Dawson's too, were served Sunday at the Annual Strawberry Festival of The Tech. The outing was held at the Green Acres Country Club in Saxonville, Massachusetts.

Facilities for softball, outdoor bowling, dancing, ping-pong, and other sports were utilized, but although there was a pond nearby, no brave newspaperman dared the cold. Several softball games in which almost everyone took part kept the picnic lively.

The dinner was both well cooked and bountiful, a four-course masterpiece. Paradoxically the strawberry shortcake came as a surprise, as previous Festivals have lacked strawberries. Dancing, ping-pong, and ambidexterity before the fireplace followed the dinner.

Approximately fifty members of the staff and their dates attended the outing. Among those present were John F. Tyrell, '43, general manager, Harry Ottinger, '43, editor, James E. Gallivan, '44, personnel manager, who arranged the picnic.

Gold Keys Will Go To Frosh Debate Contest Winners

Competition Sponsored By Debating Society Begins After Vacation

Gold Keys will be awarded to the winners of the Freshman intersection debating contest which is to begin immediately after spring vacation. The debates, to be run by the Debating Society in conjunction with the English departments, will use the subject "Resolved: that the United States government should regulate by law all the labor unions." The word regulate shall mean incorporation of the unions, thus fixing responsibility for action during strikes and the regulation of funds.

The first round of the contest is to be held April 23 and 24 in the various English sections, and the second round will be held early the next week.

Dramashop Presentation of "Ay Dios Amios" Is Success

During the past week-end the M.I.T. Dramashop presented its most hilarious production in recent years. "It's time we learned", a timely consideration of Pan-American relations develops an old idea in an amusing new light.

Janet Norris as Mecha, the emotional, domineering, South American wife, presented the most convincing portrayal in George Bemberg's amusing and fast-moving three-act comedy relating the trials and tribulations which two Harvard boys from the United States brought to the family of a college chum to whose home in Latin America they invited themselves for the summer vacation. These three typical college boys played their parts to perfection: a scene which both they and the audience enjoyed greatly was one which began off stage with a surprisingly good drunken chorus of "I've Been Working on the Railroad." Jasper Ward, portraying Larry Foster, the over-zealous anthropology student, was a comedy in himself as he dashed about taking his bewildered

Frosh To Hold Option Drawing

Judy Darling To Pick Free Redemptions

Judy Darling, the vocalist with Roly Rogers' Orchestra, will draw the numbers of three Freshman Prom options in the Lobby of Building 10 tomorrow at noon. The holders of these options will get free redemptions on tickets for the dance to be held May 8th.

Only those options which were bought before 5:00 p.m. Monday or which are bought at the desk in the Lobby will be eligible for the drawing. Options can be bought at the desk up until the drawing to be eligible, but it will be impossible to collect stubs from all salesmen of tickets sold elsewhere from now until then.

Contrary to rumors which were prevalent yesterday, options will continue to be sold until April 29, at which time ticket sales and redemptions of options will begin. This freshman prom which is to be held at the Hotel Kenmore on May 8th is to have Roly Rogers and his orchestra which played on Junior Prom weekend.

Rogers' orchestra as well as creating a very good impression after the Junior Prom has been acclaimed by one critic in Down Beat Magazine as the most outstanding orchestra to come out of Boston in many years. The options, which can be purchased from any Freshman Council member for $2.00, will be redeemed for $1.00 more plus the 30c federal amusement tax. They can also be bought in any fraternity house or in the 5:15 Clubroom.

Frosh Smoker Committee Appointed For Next Year

The following men have been appointed to the Freshman Smoker Committee according to an announcement made by the Walker Memorial Committee: Chairman, Robert W. Maxwell, '43; invitations, Malcolm Walker, '43; entertainment, Jack Karstrom, '43; movies, John Gayton, '43; refreshments, Henry Tiedemann, '43; publicity, Harry Ottinger, '43; and finance, Frank Briber, '43. The committee will be assisted by the newly appointed Junior members of the Walker Memorial Committee who are Herbert Knappe, Walter Manson and Richard Whiffen.

Watchell, Calabi, Win Third Place In Math Contest

Technology Students Return From Oberlin With $200 In Prizes

A team from Technology took third place in the Fifth Annual William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition held on March 7 at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio. The Institute team was composed of Eugenio D. Calabi, '43, Warren S. Loud, '42, and George P. Watchell, '43.

First prize of $400 was won for the third time since the contest has been in existence by a team from the University of Toronto. The team from Yale won the $300 second prize, and the Technology team was awarded $200. City College of New York won for placing fourth $100.

In addition to these prizes, $50 prizes were awarded to each of the five persons who ranked highest in the six-hour examination. Loud was the recipient of one of these, and Calabi was one of the five individuals to receive honorable mention.

All those who received awards will also receive medals, and members of the teams which won cash awards will also receive individual cash prizes.

John Lutz To Talk At Biology Society Dinner Wednesday

Dr. Brenton R. Lutz, head of the department of Biology at Boston University, will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner of the Sedgwick Biological Society, to be held at 6:30 P.M. next Wednesday evening in Pritchett Hall of Walker Memorial. Dr. Lutz will present moving pictures and slides of the experiments he and Dr. George Fulton have made on changes in the size and physiological condition of blood system capillaries.

Leaving for Brown University at Providence, R. I., next Saturday, members of the Sedgwick Biological Society will represent Technology at the Conference of Biological Societies of Eastern New England Colleges. The exhibits which are to be staged by the Institute representatives will be the Greiger counter and a demonstration of the use of radio-active traces in biological work. There will be an exhibit of the work of the electron microscope, followed by a demonstration of audible plant growth. A fourth exhibit will be on the application of streaming biofringence in biophysical work.

Lockwood, '45, director of the Book Exchange has sent letters to the twenty-four fraternities and the Student House requesting donations of discarded texts. Students having books which they wish to contribute may do so by bringing them to the T.C.A. office any day before 5:00 P.M.

If it is desired to have a student of a particular nationality receive your donation, a slip of paper stating your request may be put into the book, and the request will be carried out. However, all books in order to pass the censors of the various countries, must be free from markings of any sort. It will be appreciated by the W.S.S.F. if all marks in your contributed books are erased before giving them in.

A GOOD START, KEEP IT UP

The Walker Dining Service is encountered with the difficult job of satisfying the appetites of some four hundred patrons day in and day out over an uninterrupted nine month period. The number of complaints from these customers is indicative of the arduousness of Walker's task. In the past, these grumblings of discontent have remained in the background simply because there was no organized method in which they could be brought to the attention of the management.

Two years ago a committee was established to consult with the Dining Service and to pass on to the managers the gripes of the students who eat in Walker. Recently the efficiency of this committee and the attendance at its meetings decreased to a point where the results obtained through the functioning of the committee were seriously affected. Last night the new committee met with the Dining Service managers at the first meeting of its fiscal year, and, with an enthusiasm that is peculiarly present at the outset of any endeavor, the committee offered its suggestions and the management accepted them in a manner which promises results and satisfaction to the students.

We hope that this enthusiasm continues to predominate the operations of the Dining Service committee throughout its tenure of office. The advantages which can arise from such a situation are two-fold: Walker Dining Hall will become a better eating place and the students will be able to enjoy a service which they themselves will have helped to build. But if these results are to be obtained, certain responsibilities must be recognized and assumed by the proper parties. The student who has a complaint must see that a member of the committee hears that complaint, the committeemen must see that the meetings are well attended and that the deserving criticisms receive attention during the discussion periods, and the managers of the Walker Dining Service must see that the suggestions are treated with a conscientious cooperative attitude.

TECHNIQUE DOES IT AGAIN

Today Technique, Institute year book, is being distributed among the student body, which will be especially pleased, we believe, with this year's book because of its general excellence and because it comes as the first official record of Technology at war.

Technique has established a precedent during its many years of existence of always publishing an annual of the highest quality, and this edition is no exception. In many ways the new book is an improvement over past volumes. The cloth cover is new and different, the frontispiece adds color to the annual, the new arrangement of material with the activities first and the Senior class and Faculty following groups the matter according to its interest to the reader, and the "Tech Today" resume is a welcome and valuable addition.

All of this has been attained by a staff which was forced to push its deadline three weeks ahead of the customary date because of the early graduation of the Class of 1942. That meant long confabs and make-up sessions until the small hours of the morning, write-ups that had to be rushed at the possible expense of excellence, and much wrangling with picture schedules for Seniors and activities. In spite of the necessary haste with which the book was compiled, this year's Technique has no more than the usual number of mistakes which every printed work contains.

The undergraduates and the Seniors, especially, owe their thanks to Technique for another fine record of life at Technology, one made under adverse conditions yet with no sacrifice of quality.

The Reader Speaks

Editor of The Tech
Dear Sir:

It is unfortunate that The Tech has had so little faith in the United States Army, its officers and its men, as to assume that the fall of Bataan was a direct result of the loss of Douglas MacArthur, "the miracle man." We have been told countless times of the vital necessity of national and army morale. What is an army to think, if only one of its officers is capable enough to handle a given situation? Even if such a situation existed, it certainly would not be to the advantage of the country to have such a thing published at this time. The hackneyed but true phrase, "the heroic defenders of Bataan," still describes conditions better than "the soldiers of our gallant commander, Douglas MacArthur."

Very truly yours,

Theodore C. Jay, Jr.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,

In your issue of Tuesday, April 7th, one of your reporters speaks disparagingly of the Russian nation and at the same time speaks flip-pantly of the name of Cabot.

Besides being poor journalism, it seems in very bad taste.

Very sincerely yours,

Frank L. Hall, '25

(Editor's Note: The Tech has erred and welcomes such temperate castigation).

To the Editor:

In the second editorial of your last issue, you say, "For it was not until MacArthur had left the besieged defenders of Bataan that the Japanese were able to capture the Philippines. Almost everyone else, including high military authorities agreed that MacArthur had left the island because it was doomed to fall, and not vice-versa."

Let us not discredit General Wainwright and his gallant men because they lost a battle which was doomed December 8, 1941.

Very truly yours,

A. Fuerman, '44

For Boys To Play

By Gene Schnell

... social events last week-end were numerous enough to warrant a pleasant interim for even the brownest of brown-baggers. The Beta Theta Pi brothers chalked up another successful party with the advent of their Spring formal Friday evening at their house out Brookline way. From the reports heard, it appears that a rousing time was had by all.

... at the same time the combined Lasell-Technology glee club concert held sway at Walker Memorial. Those Tech men who attended the dance afterwards were not appreciated, so it seemed, in that a goodly number of the Lasell chorus slipped away, and not unnoticed. What's all this we've heard about men being at a premium due to the draft, and Lasell, a college for young ladies?

... congratulations to the Lambda Chi Alpha brethren for their formal Saturday night, excellent as far as formals go. Held at the Bradford Roof, the column's number one choice for fraternity formals, things went smoothly. With the highlight of the party being an informal harmonic rendition, as we expected, by the house sextet.

... informal fun reigned supreme at the Chi Phi Bohemian party held last Saturday as the costumes ranged from bathrobes to the semi-formal dress of some of the guests. A definite attraction was the appearance of new wallpaper designed by a rather capable Boston art student. Need we say that the party was a great success.

... the traditional Strawberry Festival for the members of the staff of The Tech went off in great style last Sunday. An added and definitely befitting complement to the party was the novel addition of strawberries to the usual refreshments.

... dramashop's presentation last week-end of "It's Time We Learned" was a success in every respect except student attendance.

The play was definitely well written and the acting showed careful coaching as well as conscientious effort on the part of the actors. It is pleasing to note that the Tech co-eds are showing both interest and ability in matters dramatic, although they are not as yet numerous enough to fill all the feminine roles in "It's Time We Learned." Our thespians certainly deserve more encouragement than was rendered by the mere handful of students who showed up to witness last week-end's performances.

... anyone partial to George Bernard Shaw's style will be pleased to hear that "Major Barbara" will be at the Exeter Street Theatre all this week; anyone but a dyed-in-the-wool Shaw fan would do well to save his money and enthusiasm for some more-enjoyable presentation. The story is a typical Shavian lecture on the wrongs of England's social system, with Wendy Hiller, capable star of "Pygmalion," and Rex Harrison in the leading roles. Robert Morley, as the millionaire munition maker, is thoroughly unconvincing, although the fault lies not with the actor, but with Shaw's characterization. The one outstanding bit of acting is turned in by Robert Newton in the part of Bill Walker, a tough cockney from the slums of London. As is his custom, Shaw introduces the play with a few thousand well-chosen words on destroyers, bases, bombs, and other subjects of equal relevancy.

Never Before

Lately, 8.04 Physics lectures have been dragging slightly, and yesterday there appeared to be a slight drop in attendance, perhaps because of the arrival of spring, and maybe, who knows, maybe some of the boys just don't care for optics.

Be that as it may, Professor Arthur C. Hardy, who was doing the honors at this particular lecture, was trying to explain to the Sophs the mysteries and vagaries of all sorts of aberrations, illustrating his talk with examples, by means of the arc-light. Finally, just as he reached what looked as though it might be some sort of a climax, the arc up and quit.

Nor did it come right on again, as it usually does, when moved forward. Professor Hardy was puzzled. He fiddled here, and fussed there, but the ?.*ff!%b? thing wouldn't work. At last, forced to give some explanation, he said, "I find myself in the position of the man whose horse suddenly fell dead. All I can say is that it never did that before." To most of those present that was a fitting climax to the day's lecture.

Wrong Number

Spring fever strikes suddenly and strikes hard. And when it strikes, the results are varied. Take the case of that certain fraternity freshman: The yearling had packed his laundry with care, in order to send it home, as was his custom. Carefully he lugged it across the bridge to the Superintendent's office, where he bought stamps to paste thereon. And he mailed it.

That night as he entered his fraternity house his brothers accosted him, and told of a bundle from his home. Yes indeed, there was his laundry, all nicely addressed to himself, with his mother's address tucked away in that spot reserved for the return address.

Dartmouth Win Ends Beaver's Winning Streak

Tech Lacrossers To Play Harvard Tomorrow At Briggs

The Dartmouth Indians knocked the Beaver lacrosse men out of the ranks of the undefeated yesterday by scoring three quick goals at the beginning of the last quarter to end a 7 to 7 tie and to ultimately win the game on a 10 to 8 count.

Ralph Leader was the leading scorer for M.I.T. with three goals while Al Heckel got two and Gene Schnell, Bill Kennelly and Earle Foote each got one. Bob Given's play was especially brilliant both on the defense and on the numerous flying jaunts that he made down the field with the ball to give an added impetus to the Tech offensive.

The starting lineup was as follows:

Wally Jevon	Goal
Cal Dunwoody	Pt.
Bob Given	C. Pt.
Doug Fenton	1st D.
Earle Foote	C.
Fred Gander	2nd A.
Bill Kennelly	1st A
Al Heckel	O. H.
Ralph Leader	I. H.

Captain Bob Evans, Gene Schnell, and Pete Sibley made up an alternate midfield.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock the Beavers play Harvard—the place, Briggs field. Coach Bob Maddux, a former Crimsonian, is probably pointing his team for this game, and it should prove to be a very interesting and close contest.

Because of the early graduation of the Seniors, the lacrosse schedule has been crowded into the month of April and the following teams comprise the remainder of the schedule; Harvard here, the 15th; Springfield, here, the 18th; Yale, there, the 22nd; Williams, there, the 25th; and New Hampshire, here, the 29th.

Rifle Team Dines Tomorrow Night

Team Will Select New Captain And Manager

At its annual banquet at 6:30 P.M. tomorrow night in the Hotel Victoria, the Technology rifle team will announce the winners of the season's awards as well as choose the captain and manager for next year. Members will also ballot for the star who shall receive the Varsity Club Medal.

Major Edward C. Harwood, Department of Military Science, will be the principal speaker; Colonel Putney, Major Spurr, Captain Stevens, all of the Military Science department, and Ralph T. Joep, Chairman of the Advisory Council on Athletics, will also speak during the evening.

Representatives of each class will talk briefly; these are: Dick Gannon, '42, Pete Weisenthal, '43, Bob Wood, '44, and George Dundon, '45. Coach Woicak will hold forth on a subject as yet shielded by military censorship.

Results of the Interclass meet were announced tonight by Lin Adams. The Seniors concluded their shooting with a win, including the high score of the meet. Lin Adams shot 282, which took the honors, but R. Gannon and H. Lorence, both Seniors, followed closely with 278 apiece. Don Greateorex and Sherwood Willard were the remaining two who placed on the Senior team. The freshman team, which recently trampled the J.V.'s, took second place.

Swim Club To Hold Annual Dinner Tonight

The Colonial Kitchen at 43 Charles St. in Boston will be the scene of the Annual Tech Swim Club banquet to be held tonight, says Bill Denhard, '42, president of the club. The meeting will be a farewell occasion for John Jarosh, team coach, who recently resigned. At this dinner, which concludes the team's season, awards will be made to those members of the team who earned them during this last year's competition. Gordon Smith, mentor of the very successful freshman swimming team will also be present. Initiation of new members of the Tech Swim Club and elections for next year's officers will complete the evening. Also at that time a captain will be named for next year's swimming team.

Kappa Sigs Shade Student House In Softball Tourney

With all the games scheduled for Saturday postponed only four contests were completed in the Beaver Key Softball tournament. The lone dorm team, Hayden downed Phi Sigma Kappa on Sunday while the Kappa Sigs nosed out Student House in a close contest with an 8-7 count. In the other contests SAE downed Theta Delta Chi, 12-2, and Phi Delta Theta eliminated the Phi Kappas, 16-10. The Phi Mu Delta-Delta Tau Delta was postponed and may be played today. No games are scheduled for this week-end other than those which were postponed because of poor playing conditions on Saturday. Sid Atlas, '43, wishes to announce that all participants can obtain playing equipment by signing for it at the dorm office.

Dartmouth Match Is Cancelled Because Of Weather Conditions

The first scheduled golf match of the spring season was snowed under at Hanover, New Hampshire, on Saturday, April 11. The first game will be held Thursday, at the Oakley Country Club, with Boston University. The tentative line-up is Capt. Arthur Avent, 1; Dick Wynne, 2; Gene Morrison, 3; Carl Trexel, 4; Bob Plachta, 5; Franny Carey, 6.

According to E. H. Morrison, manager, the team can expect to score a majority of wins this season. Four of the six men are veterans of at least one season. He added that all candidates for the freshman and varsity teams must have a letter of recommendation to be allowed to practice on the country club links. All interested should contact either Morrison or the coach.

On Friday, April 17, a meeting will be held with Brown University on the Oakley grounds. This is among the hardest matches of the schedule.

Charles F. Adams Speaks To Sailors

Former Secretary Of Navy Tells Of His Yachting

With one of the country's foremost yachtsmen as its guest, the Nautical Association held a banquet last Friday evening in Walker. The guest, Charles Francis Adams, has had many years of sailing experience and was Secretary of the Navy under President Herbert Hoover.

Twenty-four members of the Nautical Association heard Mr. Adams, who was made an honorary member previous to the dinner, speak of his work in the Cabinet. Besides the position on the Cabinet, the speaker has had the distinction of racing the Resolute in the cup races with Great Britain. He is well-known on the eastern seaboard for his racing at Marblehead in the summers.

Mr. Adams was very intimately connected with the beginnings of sailing at Technology. He was the donor of the second dinghy used on the river, the Sextant, and was influential in interesting many in the Nautical Association.

Telling of his racing, of his work on the Cabinet, and of his views on the Navy today Mr. Adams proved beyond a doubt that he is the dean of yachtsmen in this country.

Although the precipitation of one kind or another had racked the dinghies for the week-end, the shore school and racing has begun again now. Jack Wood expects to have all his students on the river within a day or two.

Crews Concentrate On Coordination Unity And Clockwork Must Be Attained

With the Rowe Cup race less than two weeks away, the Tech crews are undergoing their final stage of training—that of achieving complete coordination. Every stroke must be in perfect time—like clockwork, every movement must be made together—just a part of a unit.

Time trials are being given as frequently as possible to determine just what improvements have to be made, and to further acquaint the oarsmen with the course to be rowed. The Henley race course begins nearly opposite the Tech crewhouse and finishes just before Longfellow bridge, the total distance being a mile and three quarters.

All crew lineups remain, approximately the same, as the showing of the crewmen has been steadily improving. The freshmen 150 lb. class shows a change, however, in that Frailey has been re-installed at the No. 7 position because Swan, former 7 man, injured his elbow. Another change in the near future in the varsity, will be necessitated because of the graduation of Marsh McGuire, No. 6 man in the first boat. His successor is uncertain as yet.

The crew schedule for the next few weeks is as follows:

April 25	Rowe Cup, Cambridge Harvard, Boston University, Syracuse, and M.I.T.
May 2	Compton Cup, Princeton Princeton, Harvard, Syracuse, and M.I.T.
May 16	Adams Cup, Cambridge Harvard, Navy, M.I.T. Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin.
May 16	Henley Race, Princeton. Eight 150 lb. crews participating, not usually decided until a week before the race.

Katherine Gibb's contribution to the cast was Tia Christina, with her dangerous tendency toward sherry and her ability to detect her sister's weakness for chocolates. Robert L.
